

The Return Intention Survey was conducted at a household level between 1 December and 2 December 2021 in Muna Elbadawy Camp, located in Dusuman ward, Jere LGA in Borno State. A total of 337 households responded to the questionnaire, representing a sample of 4 per cent of the total IDP population. They were randomly selected from an estimated 7,661 households that are currently residing in Muna Elbadawy Camp. All households reported that they were displaced as a result of the on-going insurgency in North-east Nigeria.

LIVELIHOOD

Livelihoods in locations of origin

Petty trade	38%
Agro pastoralism	27%
Farming	19%
Artisans	7%
Fishing	4%
Other	9%

It is important to note that 90 per cent of the IDPs in Muna Elbadawy Camp reported that their access to livelihood activities was interrupted as a result of their forced displacement. Ninety-five per cent of IDPs believe that they can resume their livelihood activities upon return to their locations of origin.

DISPLACEMENT HISTORY

All IDPs who are residing in Muna Elbadawy Camp originate from locations within Borno State.

LGAs of origin

Mafa	65%
Dikwa	17%
Marte	13%
Bama	1%
Other	3%

Year of displacement

The graphic above demonstrates that a significant number of IDPs in Muna Elbadawy Camp find themselves in a situation of protracted displacement.

Number of times displaced

SHELTER

Type of home in locations of origin

House ownership in locations of origin

Average rent in locations of origin

Under 10,000	17%
Between 10,000 and 20,000	50%
Between 21,000 and 30,000	17%
Between 31,000 and 40,000	16%
Between 41,000 and 50,000	/
Above 50,000	/

FUTURE INTENTIONS

Intentions after camp closure

Return to location of origin	98%
Go somewhere else (onwards displacement)	/
Remain in this location (host community)	2%
I don't know	/

Reason to return to location of origin

Improvement of security situation	43%
Government return schemes	28%
Lack of employment opportunities	27%
Join family members	1%
Other	<1%

Reason to remain in this location and integrate with the local host community

Better security situation in displacement	43%
Lack of security in location of origin	29%
Better employment opportunities	14%
Access to humanitarian assistance	14%

The analysis illustrates that a majority of IDPs in Muna Elbadawy Camp are planning on returning to their locations of origin as a result of the Government relocation schemes. Consequently, as 65 per cent of the IDPs in Muna Elbadawy Camp originate from Mafa LGA, a substantial influx is to be expected in Mafa LGA following the closure of the camp. It is to be noted that only a small minority of 2 per cent of IDPs do not intend to return to their locations of origin but rather prefer to integrate in the local community around Muna Elbadawy Camp. This choice is mainly related to the security situation in the LGAs of origin.