

BASELINE MOBILITY ASSESSMENT

SUMMARY RESULTS NOVEMBER - DECEMBER 2017 KABUL

ABOUT DTM

The Displacement Tracking Matrix (DTM) is a system that tracks and monitors displacement and population mobility. It is designed to regularly and systematically capture, process and disseminate information to provide a better understanding of the movements and evolving needs of displaced populations, whether on site or en route. For more information about the DTM, please visit www.displacement.iom.int/afghanistan.

In Afghanistan, DTM employs the Baseline Mobility Assessment tool, designed to track mobility, determine the population sizes and locations of forcibly displaced people, reasons for displacement, places of origin, displacement locations and times of displacement, including basic demographics, as well as vulnerabilities and priority needs. Data is collected at the settlement level, through key informant interviews, focus group discussions, and direct observations.

This provincial report summarises the DTM findings in Kabul. The data has been collected throughout 15 districts and 525 settlements in Kabul. This provincial report is supplementary to its nationwide counterpart, please see: Baseline Mobility Assessment Summary Results (November — December 2017).

DTM enables IOM and its partners to deliver evidencebased, better targeted, mobility-sensitive and sustainable humanitarian assistance, reintegration, community stabilization and development programming.

5 TARGET POPULATIONS

Through the Baseline Mobility Assessments, DTM tracks the locations, population sizes, and cross-sectoral needs of the five core target population categories:

- 1. Returnees from Abroad
- 2. Out-Migrants

Internally Displaced Persons (IDPs), subdivided into the following three categories:

- 3. Arrival IDPs
- 4. Returnee IDPs
- Fled IDPs

Data on population sizes for the 5 target population categories is collected by time of displacement, using each of the following time frames: 2012-2015 • 2016 • 2017.

>> KEY INFORMANTS

DTM's field enumerators, District Focal Points (DFPs), collect data at the settlement level, predominantly through focus group discussions with key informants. The average size of focus groups is five key informants per group. In the rare case that DTM's District Focal Points cannot physically reach a community, due to insecurity, conflict, or risk of retaliation by anti-government elements, DFPs meet the focus groups at a safe place outside their communities or conduct the assessments by phone.

Significant highlights regarding the overall composition of Key Informant Focus Groups include the following:

☆ >>> RETURNEES

Returnees are Afghan nationals who have returned to Afghanistan in the assessed location after having spent at least six months abroad. This group includes both documented returnees (Afghans who were registered refugees in host countries and then requested voluntary return with UNHCR and relevant national authorities) and undocumented returnees (Afghans who did not request voluntary return with UNHCR, but rather returned spontaneously from host countries, irrespective of whether or not they were registered refugees with UNHCR and relevant national authorities).

Within Kabul, the number of returnees from abroad increased by only 6% in 2016, compared to the period between 2012 and 2015, followed by a 23% decrease in returns in 2017. The districts of Paghman, Mirbachakot and Kabul host the majority of returnees, 60,312, 60,166 and 53,818 respectively.

Overall, Kabul province hosts a total inflow of 437,693 returnees and IDPs, of which 59% (256,145) are returnees and 41% (181,548) are IDPs. The table below shows the 20 settlements in Kabul that are most affected by this influx. These 20 settlements (4% of the 525 settlements assessed in Kabul) host 28% of the province's returnees and IDPs. These communities are especially fragile and susceptible to social instability induced by this large influx and the subsequent competition for limited, already overstretched resources and job opportunities. Although the Kabul district hosts the most displaced persons (122,270), the four most severely affected settlements are in Paghman.

STORIES FROM THE DISPLACED

COMPLEX MIGRATION PATTERNS: FROM IDPS TO REFUGEES TO RETURNEES

Saifuddin and his nine family members, like so many other Afghans, have a long and complex migration history.

During Afghanistan's civil war, their village in Kabul was caught in the fighting of two warring parties: "We left everything behind", Saifuddin explains. First, he only sought refuge in a neighbouring province. However, unable to find work, he soon decided to move on to leave Afghanistan entirely and join some of his relatives who had moved to Pakistan. But life and finding work in Pakistan wasn't as easy as he had hoped. "Illiteracy and unfamiliarity with urban labour skills were my biggest problems", Saifuddin remembers. "Sometimes I was so worried about my family's future that I was completely paralyzed, not able to make any decision at all".

Ultimately, the father of eight uprooted his family once again, this time to Iran. He found work, and his children went to school, but when he realized that he was unable to obtain citizenship and his children were therefore unable to pursue post-primary education, he decided to return to Afghanistan. On the outskirts of Kabul, they live in severe poverty. Saifuddin has found work as a farmer, but the family can barely make ends meet. Despite this, he remains optimistic: "I am happy with my decision; I want my children to have a better future, and in Afghanistan they can at least continue with their education.", he said.

Since 2012, Kabul has hosted 256,145 return refugees, 65% of which are accounted for by the last two years. This growing influx of return places Saifuddin and his family among an ever-increasing number of returnees trying to reintegrate into a place they used to call home. Meanwhile, Kabul's infrastructure and services are struggling to keep up with its rapidly swelling population.
